INTRASTAT THRESHOLDS & DEADLINES

CHANGES FOR 2026

pincvision[®]

INTRODUCTION

Intrastat reporting is an essential part of statistical reporting within the European Union. It enables governments and policymakers to track trade flows between member states. Each year, Intrastat threshold values are adjusted, making it crucial for businesses to stay up to date comply with reporting obligations.

Our Intrastat Specialist, Lisa Terberg - Widdershoven, has compiled the thresholds and deadlines per country for 2026, allowing you to easily check whether you are required to submit an Intrastat declaration in the coming year.

Intrastat reporting without the hassle

Intrastat reporting is part of trading goods within the EU. But keeping track of the requirements, collecting the right data and submitting declarations on time can take more effort than expected. Does this sound familiar? With Pincvision, you don't have to handle this alone. We take care of your Intrastat declarations so you stay compliant while focusing on your core business.

Practical support from our specialists

Our specialists combine practical experience with reliable systems to prepare and submit your declarations accurately and on time. That means fewer administrative concerns and the reassurance that your reporting obligations are handled properly. Curious how this works for your organization? INTRASTAT THRESHOLD ADJUSTMENTS

Intrastat thresholds are reviewed annually and may change depending on economic conditions, trade volumes, and regulatory decisions within each EU member state. These adjustments ensure that trade statistics remain accurate and reflect the latest market trends. This document provides a complete overview of the 2026 thresholds, including all changes compared with the previous year, so businesses can stay informed and compliant.
